

Communication Sciences and Disorders License Disclosure Summary

Disclaimer: This resource contains information that is dynamic and subject to change. MSU and the CSD program assume no liability or responsibility for any errors or omissions contained in this resource. It is your responsibility to verify the accuracy of this information prior to enrolling.

“Yes” or “no” below indicates the program’s best-faith effort to determine whether the program meets licensing requirements. NOTE: Initial licensure is often conditional/temporary pending completion of additional state requirements (e.g., CFY or teacher/education coursework) if they have not been completed previously. For detailed information, see state-by-state licensing regulations. Some states have a compact to facilitate license portability between states. The Interstate Compact applies to state licensure only. Teacher licensure usually has additional requirements.
